

INTERCESSION

by Louis Romano

The first novel in the series, introducing Vic Gonnella, the gritty, street-wise, detective

About the Book~

A former seminarian...John Deegan, molested as a boy,
takes justice into his own hands

The Bronx. A priest is found dead with a sharpened crucifix sticking in his neck. A crazed killer on the loose or a damaged man with an extreme sense of justice? Four, tough, New York City cops hot on the trail, one with a painful secret. What happens when those we trust most in our communities abuse that trust? Who should we believe? Intercession is a fast-paced controversial crime thriller that penetrates all the way into the heart of the Catholic Church and beyond to reveal some uncomfortable truths

About the Author~

Louis Romano, born in the Bronx in 1950, is a successful businessman who began his literary career writing urban poetry in 1968. He began writing crime novels, with INTERCESSION debuting his character, Detective Vic Gonnella. Romano is already at work on the second installment of the Detective Vic Gonnella series, this one based on a true, unsolved murder mystery involving a child. Although passionate about writing, Louis is equally passionate about his work with Road to Recovery, a non-profit charity that assists survivors of clergy sexual abuse.

What they are saying...

"The book provides fast-paced and never ending suspense while providing intimate details of precisely how a murder investigation is conducted under the auspices of the brightest minds that the NYPD and FBI have to offer. If you have even a slight interest in pedophilia or fast paced crime novels, this book is for you with no reservations whatsoever." Author, Lowell Blankfeld
